

FINANCIAL COUNSELLING SUPPORT FOR FARMERS IN THE BOGAN, COBAR AND WARREN LGA'S

Jeff Caldbeck, CEO of the Rural Financial Counselling Service NSW Central Region (RFCSCR), recently announced the appointment of Gabby Kirk as a Rural Financial Counsellor (RFC) to the Nyngan Office.

The appointment of Gabby from the 14th August 2017, has come at an appropriate time as clients within the Local Government Areas of Bogan, Warren and Cobar, prepare for the upcoming season with the outlook for unfavourably dry conditions and reduced pasture growth.

Gabby comes from a farming background, growing up on a beef/dairy farm in Victoria, and has 20 years' experience in the mining industry, working in Australia, Africa and South America.

Gabby has a passion for the human aspect of farm profitability, and is looking forward to supporting clients get back to financial good health by providing free and confidential financial counselling and referral support through the Nyngan office, located at 65 Pangee Street, Nyngan.

Gabby is eager to take on the role of Nyngan RFC and will assist eligible clients to better understand their financial situation by providing: access to financial information and options, empower clients to make their own decisions on how to effectively manage change and adjustment, referring clients to other service providers and linking them to government and industry assistance.

For more information on the services provided via the Rural Financial Counselling Service Program or to make contact with Gabby, please call her mobile 0407 491 014, our new 1800 940 404 telephone number or email nyngan@rfcscr.com.au
